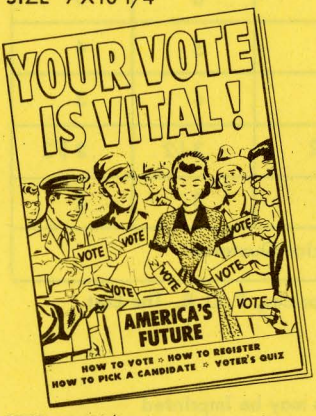
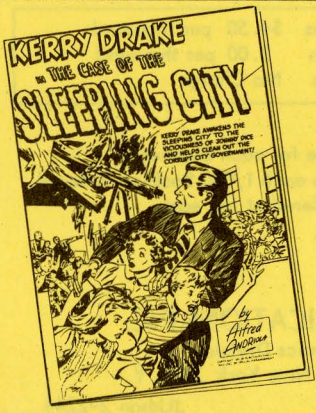
16 pages in popular four colors, illustrated in picture story technique. Proves that any man can get things done. Shows how one man convinces others that they should not give up after a plant, which provided their living, burned down. Portraying democracy at work, it illustrates how the individual vote is important; how each citizen plays an essential role in the running of industry and government.

SIZE 7X10 1/4



16 pages, digest size, four colors, using the illustrated picture story technique. Completely non-partisan, it emphasizes the importance of registering and voting. By comparing voting under a dictatorship, communism, and in our country, it illustrates how democracy works. Tells how to weigh issues, judge candidates, and points out voting procedures. Voters Quiz permits the reader to evaluate his and his neighbor's effectiveness as a voter.

SIZE 5x7 1/4



16 pages, in four color illustrated picture story technique. Dramatically shows that our prime responsibility on the home front is to take an active interest in our local government by voting and participating. After disaster strikes the citizens unite and clean out the corrupt local government, which was controlled by a vicious gangster and his mob. Illustrated by Alfred Andriola, famous creator of KERRY DRAKE comic strip.
